The actual transaction exchange rate for expenses paid immediately in foreign currency is the buying rate of the commercial bank where the enterprise makes the payment.

4. Financial investments

4.1 Trading securities

Trading securities are securities held by the Company for trading purposes. Trading securities are recorded from the date the Company acquires ownership and are determined by the total of the fair value of the payments at the time the transaction occurs and expenses related to the purchase of trading securities.

The time of recording trading securities is the time when the Company has ownership, specifically as follows:

- Listed securities are recorded at the time of order matching (T+0);
- Unlisted securities are recorded at the time of official ownership as prescribed by law.

Dividends from periods prior to the date the trading securities were purchased are recorded as a reduction in the value of the investment. Dividends distributed for periods subsequent to the date the trading securities were purchased are recorded in financial income.

Provision for dilutions of trading securities is the larger difference between their original cost and market value, set aside in accordance with the provisions of Circular No. 48/2019/TT-BTC dated August 8, 2019 of the Ministry of Finance.

- For listed securities, the actual market price of securities is calculated based on the closing price on the last day of the period.

- For shares registered for trading on the market of unlisted public companies (Upcom), the actual stock price on the market is determined as the average reference price of trading days in the last 30 days of the period.

When trading securities are sold, the cost of the trading securities is determined using the weighted average method.

4.2 Held to maturity investment:

Held-to-maturity investments include those investments that the Company has the intention and ability to hold until maturity. Held-to-maturity investments include bonds that the issuer must redeem at a certain time in the future, and bank deposits with maturities of more than 3 months.

Held-to-maturity investments are initially recorded at cost, which is the purchase price. After initial recognition, these investments are recorded at their recoverable amount.

Interest arising after the purchase date of held-to-maturity investments is added financial income.

The Company bases the remaining term from the reporting date of investments held to maturity to the expired date to classify them as short-term or long-term.

4.3 Capital investments in other entities

Investments in other entities include investments in subsidiaries, joint ventures, associated companies and other equity investments with the purpose of long-term holding.

6. Inventory

Inventories are measured at cost, if cost is greater than net realizable value, inventories are measured at net realizable value. The cost of inventories includes: purchase expense, processing expense and other directly related expenses incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Net realizable value is determined by the estimated selling price less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to consume them.

Investment property for lease is stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of investment property is the total cash or cash equivalents paid by the enterprise or the fair value of other consideration given to acquire the investment property up to the time of purchase or completion of construction of the investment property.

Expenses related to investment real estate incurred after initial recognition are recorded as expenses, unless these expenses are likely to make the investment property generate more economic benefits in the future than the initially assessed level of performance, then they are recorded as an increase in original cost.
